Chalfont, PA — Mars Fishcare associates volunteer at Aark Wildlife Rehabilitation and Education Center

Associates of Mars Fishcare, located in Chalfont, PA volunteered assistance at the Aark Wildlife Rehabilitation and Education Center providing maintenance and other related duties to help prepare the site for Aark's Annual Open House. Aark, also located in Chalfont, provides temporary sanctuary for thousands of injured and orphaned birds and mammals while counting on aid donations from surrounding communities to maintain their work. The mission of Aark is rehabilitation, education, and training; each with the common goal of fostering, caring for and understanding wildlife. Aark takes aim to return these animals to their natural environments as quickly as possible. Over a 6 day period 23 associates from Mars Fishcare volunteered at Aark to prepare the center for its Annual Open House which will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 14-15, 2011. Aark is located at 1531 Upper Stump Road, Chalfont, PA 18914. Visit www.aark.org for more information.
